Mitch Samuels

PROFESSIONAL SUMMARY

I'm Mitch. I'm 20 years old and I'm a completely self-taught web designer/developer and current 3rd-year student at the University of Wisconsin, Madison, working towards a degree entirely unrelated to web design. I'm fluent in HTML, CSS, and Javascipt/JQuery, and I use them to make cool things on the internet. I started creating websites in middle school, and since then I have created websites for all kinds of people and organizations. From local restaurants and businesses, to small startup companies, to federal government agencies. I also like to play around with basically every language and platform out there, and because of that, I have published apps on the Google Play Store, the iOS App Store, the Windows Store, and even on WebOS and Zune.

EXPERIENCE

FRONTEND ENGINEER

Export Abroad, Madison, WI, 2014 - Present

I'm currenty the lead frontend engineer for a small startup company in Madison, Wisconsin. I design and create the data-heavy web app dashboard, turning boring economical data and numbers into beautiful visualizations.

FRONTEND UI/UX DESIGNER

U.S. Geological Survey, Middleton, WI, 2014 - Present

I work with a team of backend developers to create web mapping applications. I take their bootstrapped applications and completely ignore all crappy federal government design guidelines and make them look modern and useable.

PROJECTS

INEEDARESUME WEB APP

See this site you're on right now? Yeah, I made it. I wanted something to work on in my spare time, and making resumes absolutely sucks, so I thought I would make it suck less. Basically, it was as an excuse to learn Angular and build something beautiful and useful. Version 1.0 was alright, but version 2.0 is so much better.

PERSONAL/PORTFOLIO SITE, MITCHS.CO

I figured since I'm a website designer and developer, I should have my own site. It's a simple, static HTML/CSS/Javascript site, nothing too special. I normally end up changing the design every few months because I get bored with it.
